

Media release

24 August 2006

New Ballance Agri-Nutrients rep for Bay of Plenty

Ballance Agri-Nutrients is pleased to announce a new addition to its Bay of Plenty Sales Team - Shaun Pulham.

Shaun takes up the position as technical sales rep for Ballance customers in the Tauranga, Te Puke, Pukowai and Katikati districts.

He has a strong rural background having grown up on his family's 1100-acre sheep and beef farm at Kinohaku, on the southern side of the Kawhia Harbour.

Area Sales Manager Glen Pedersen is excited to have Shaun joining the team and believes his blend of practical experience and education will make him an asset to the area.

"Shaun has really got stuck in. He has worked on dairy farms in the Waikato, cropping farms in Canterbury and for contractors in the North Island. When you combine this with his tertiary qualifications we have someone who is going to be able to provide high quality, knowledgeable service to their customers."

Shaun joins the Ballance team after completing a Diploma in Farm Management and a Bachelor of Commerce (Agriculture), both from Lincoln University.

ENDS